

Hi Etienne

Great hearing from you!

What a wonderful initiative and you can rest assured that my wife, Merle and I will definitely be there to help celebrate the occasion.

Unfortunately I can't afford to retire and still have to keep my nose to the grindstone. After tackling a few ventures including estate agency/property management and tour operating, I've been involved in residential home construction here in Somerset West and surrounds but the building game is really going through a tough time with little easing up in sight.

All the best
Norman Clarence
